GREETINGS FROM THE GOVERNOR

As the 34th Governor of the Mountain State, it's my distinct honor to welcome you to our Capital City for the 58th Annual Men's Dixie Deaf Bowling Association (DDBA) and 41st Annual Dixie Deaf Women's Bowling Association (DDWBA) bowling tournament, which is being sponsored by the Fairmont Association of the Deaf in Fairmont, WV.

With more than two hundred bowlers from thirteen different states participating in this tournament, which for the first time is taking place in Charleston, WV, it promises to be an exciting experience. I commend the organizers of this event for their hard work and the participants for their competitive spirit.

Once again, welcome to the 58th Annual DDBA and 41st Annual DDWBA bowling tournament. Along with attending this event and exploring the Capital City, I invite you to go beyond the city limits to discover what else the Mountain State has to offer. From our breathtaking scenery to our friendly people, you will find everything imaginable in Wild, Wonderful West Virginia!

With warmest regards,

Greetings from the Mayor

I am pleased to welcome you and the other participants and volunteers for the 58th Annual Men's and 41st Annual Women's Dixie Deaf Bowling Association Tournament to Charleston – West Virginia's capital city. Thank you for choosing to hold this event in our city, and I wish you the best as you compete or participate in some other way during this special event.

Even though I know your primary focus will be on the tournament, I hope you will also have time to explore and enjoy the City of Charleston. In addition to our innate hospitality, Charleston has many things to offer. The Kanawha River that runs through the capital city and surrounding valley is a great source of recreation, commerce and scenic beauty. Many exciting festivals and special events occur along the river and throughout our community that may interest you as well for a return visit someday soon.

The Clay Center for the Arts and Sciences holds events and activities for all ages across the spectrum of art and science. The Charleston Town Center Mall downtown is a great place to shop and dine, offering three floors of stores and restaurants. High quality restaurants can also be found throughout the city, and the assortment of cafes and bookstores leave people with a variety of places to relax with family and friends. Furthermore, Appalachian Power Park features fun baseball games for our city's Class A team.

Hopefully I will see you around town while you're here for this tournament or any time you come back again to discover even more great things about our city.

Sincerely,

Danny Jones
Mayor
