Will we see a DDBA tournament champion -- or will it continue to be dominated by the titleholders of last year? Whichever way the tournament scores read, I surely hope the camaraderie of good sportmanship prevails, and that the games will be clean and honest.

To Randy Pippins, general chairman and Maxine Sheffield, chairlady and their hard-working committee -- may the tournaments be a successful and profitable endeavor for Baton Rouge Association of the Deaf.

To the DDBA teams that will be participating in the tournament, may the winner be worthy of the championship.

Each of you can be proud of the dedication and team work that has brought you to Baton Rouge. In a world where the emphasis is often placed on winning, it seems appropriate to kick off the DDBA tournament with the statement that you are all No.1. After all, winning is really nothing more than being the best that you can be.

See you in Baton Rouge!

Another DDBA get-together is already here and we all are here for a very special reason. This is the time of year when a SPECIAL group of bowlers, their families and friends from through the southern states gather in one place to celebrate the type of "family togetherness" that cannot be found in many places in this great land of ours.

This is my second year as your publicity director, I have enjoyed every bit of my involvement with the DDBA. I commit to encourage each team the best team may be the best to win with sportmanship and blend that with good talent.

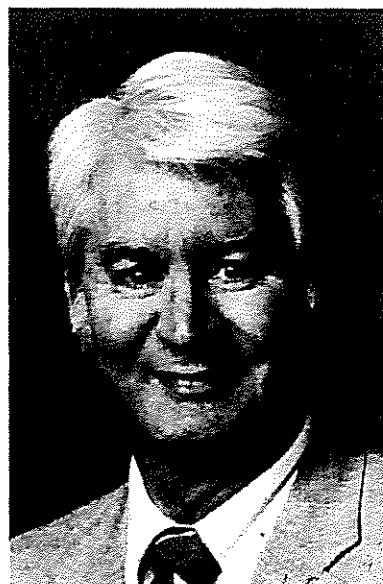

I am confident that Chairman Randy Pippins and his committee plan to provide genuine Southern hospitality for all of us. Sincere appreciation is also extended to the Baton Rouge Association of the Deaf for making this gala possible.

We hope you will have a great time bowling or winning blackjack, craps, or beating the one-armed bandit. You can do many things in Baton Rouge, New Orleans or Biloxi, Mississippi, as you are the one who decides what to do and enjoy.

See you at the DDBA tournament in Baton Rouge!

Bowlingly yours,

Jerry L. Stilwell
